ABSTRACT

The Modern Man is experiencing a sense of helplessness and uncertainty due to personal, societal and environmental challenges that do not seem to have any long lasting solutions in sight. The modern life style is a reflection of the imbalance that stems from the domination of science and technology. There is an urgency to balance our materialistic lives with spiritual practices that are practical and effective. At that such times, there needs great people to born and address them with the masses and give practical solutions. Vethathirian life and his teachings are comprehensive path that offers an integrated way of life to get in touch with the world around. Knowing his life certainly helps one to understand how Vethathiri weaves through self, society and nature to offer a healthy, harmonious and productive way of living.
